

Add. MSS 2/37

Lewis's House May 10th 1804

<sup>m</sup><sub>12</sub> p. 4 Jh

The King is sorry to find Mr. Yorke is so determined to quit a Department which he has filled with so much credit to himself as well as advantage to the Public Service. The King is fully sensible of Mr. Yorke's sincere Attachment to His Majesty's Service, & hopes it may not be at a very distant period that Mr. Yorke may find himself act unwillingly to return to His Service. The King is willing to receive Mr. Yorke as soon as he may find it convenient and has sent for Lord Mansfield to take the Custody of those till a Successor may be appointed; none can that will be so agreeable to the King as Mr. Yorke.

George III

James's Street, London. 1700
The King is very kind to give me a particular of the several things which he has thought fit to send me. I have received them with great pleasure. I have also received the papers of the late King's will, which I have read with great satisfaction.
I have also received the
papers of the late King's
will, which I have read
with great satisfaction.
I have also received the
papers of the late King's
will, which I have read
with great satisfaction.

James's Street

Handwritten text on the left edge of the page, partially cut off.

Handwritten notes in the lower-left quadrant, including the words "to the King" and "to the Queen".

Wm.
May 10. W. Ross.
The Day before
you found the Jenny.