

exclusively to the Horses during the winter: it is my in-tention to meet with the Dutch before the course of the summer but not to begin the winter so that I shall have ample time to make every proper arrange-ment with both parties in person respecting the fee-ture management of the horses: but you may tell Col. Philip and Crater I am pleased with their agreeing in the report respecting last winter and that we must write in one common interest between the Dutch, the -er and Farmer about the Horse and Horses: advise and ever believe me,

Yours sincerely

William

[Faint, illegible handwriting on aged paper]