Beaumont House.
March 5: 1890.

Dear Sir,

I am to acknowledge yours of instant and feel very sensibly the request you make me respecting the dedication of the work you propose to bring out of the life and career
- career of that truly great man the late Lord Dudley. I only wish I was more worthy of the compliment - you pay me the same as you are more than made to His Lordship for more justly value the high services rendered to the King and the Country by Admiral Lord Dudley than myself.
Whether in case of Office I must never respect the

has not been interested in the well fare of his child I shall ever rejoice it never in my power to forward you over the great sea of the Great and I am Ladney and the circumstances permit me to have continued in the honor of joining my beloved the Conqueror at the head of the Navy and I have
- have used to have placed Commanders French and other young Officers of this description in the situation, we will have to have to them to see
- the formation.

I remain,

Dear Sir,

Yours truly
