My dear Eyes,

Your favour came safe to Han-
-over thro the hands of your bandy legged maistrick hotel, who is now at Brunswick. I am happy to hear my friend Baron baronell, &c. is in a ship, will remember me till I return from Germany to the headquarters for be--arding it as it ought to be. Mr. Pavin's black guards here.
I need not be so fully assured in that respect. As for going he is to weath so do that, I have not as yet had one stroke & if it goes on so for some time longer I shall be like a store horse, that smells just like you. I am sure you will groom.

Has father put my name on paper? Tell him to send me over for myself a hat just like the one I have; no more so called ones like the German General's Button & half dozen round hats.

Tell Gray to send me over some sh. buckles & a pair of silver thru buckles.

You will say I am always begging; but you must send me very elegant watch chain; know what for anything you like & it shall be granted. Lady Moll is a queen I hope with you. Do not have anything to do with the horses. Miss Sheppard & the whole lot of them are down & pretty girls are well.

I am,

Your's sincerely
J. M.
