

The Duke of Clarence

[9 April 1814]

45050

Buckingham House.
Saturday Night.

Dear Sir,

I must trouble you to deliver the enclosed letter to the Prince Regent: it concerns his determination about embarking or not:
the time is now come for my brother to deter-mine what he will do as soon as you will be required to prepare the ship and collect a proper set of officers: at the same time I have mention-ed my marriage as of course the treaty will be signed between this country and Russia: and the enclosed to read (although I am sorry I can not meet the Prince next Friday at his Lordship but I am unfortunately that day engaged to the King of France: if I do not see you tell your me

- your advice and ever believe me,

Dear Sir,

Yours most sincerely
