Dear Sir,

It is not till evening

I see the Papers of the day and find with serious concern that the King had had an accession of Gout. I hope the fact is not so, but being unable to be in town this morning I write these lines to enquire after the health of His Majesty. At the same time I cannot forget today is the anniversary of the King's Accession to the Throne I must therefore request you will present my best wishes.

and warmest wishes to my brother and a more His Majesty in my name of the anxious and earnest desire I have in common with all his loving subjects that we may long and long enjoy the happiness and advantage of preserv-ing our present excellent Sovereign.
Ever believe me,

Dear Sir,
Yours truly
W. Mash
