

July the 13
1815

My dear Mr. Borthwick I can not say that the Queen is any better to day as she has suffered a great deal from Bile flying about her and scurvis in her back & side which are very like Rheumatism and Spasms - I do not know whether some medicine that she has been of use & she is better than ever - but so inclined to be alarmed about herself & her health so & hope that he is much particularly anxious you should not think of coming down to London for more days for fear of protracting his business or meeting any letters beyond a common enquiry - then will she ought for me all are seriously alarmed - It will of course be in some to proceed evening when he will enter into particulars by the papers you will see the report of the night - she is or will leave this evening that I hope she may get some good sleep & she has little or no pain today is not quite so well to day - she being grand

Guffe
 M. W.

Princess Mary

to

The Prince Regent

July 13th 1813.

