

Monday - 1841

My dear Mr Adams The Board arrived yesterday & a more lovely than I can describe a beautiful work Board most completely well fitted up with every thing for work it really is one of the best elegant things I ever saw & the advantage of every body that comes into my room & the very important Board for the small quite perfumes my Apartment May let me know when you write what to George for I will send you in William & others for them with the minutes

I shall certainly write to you York & try & see what I can do for you. I suppose you advanced to think I had forgot to do so before. I don't like your account of your adventures. I am glad to find the expenses so small - but admitting certainly neither yours your share comes, but we have no chance of a speedy recovery, but within this last 10 days he sleeps better, he is stronger & has gained a little flesh & is more composed all these things you see

you
 need
 is
 The
 Now
 dec
 and
 and
 What
 I
 me
 in

great hopes as to a perfect recovery in time, but much is still to be got over before the King can ever say to the world the King is well decidedly better - Regency is returned quite fast & will I may suppose be subject to not staying Yorkham is still alive
 country. I was reminded of I feel for his sister much I suppose this makes much more than in your part of the world perhaps you will love to your daughter send love to her & her mother

Salmon forgot to tell you how I was from August to January yesterday the picture of him I doubtfully was correct I never saw anything else look like him the entire of June to day & had a small in place of it for himself appears undecided and quite unwilling to begin looking now but Father's papers in Scotland do say however —
