

(FF circa 9 May 1811. cf. ref. here
to "Tomorrow will be the day year you (After 28 April, cf. (93)) came" and (61))

1811

My dear Mrs Adams - I have nothing good to say the irritation caused by the Keys has never gone off & how begins to give us much anxiety as we fear the King's health but standing the Constitution of mind & body
attended with little or not he has remained in a stationary state
for the last time makes the King and Queen
enter hours which would make to me
nothing at all
above is for young
me as one to live

(FF over 9 May 1811. cf. ref. here
to "Tomorrow will be the day year you (After 28 April, cf. (93)) came" and (61))

in the most lenient mode of treatment, all
the others in particular our two friends say
the King is strong enough to bear some & for his own satisfaction to be represented to him - The fact is we do not get on at all
therefore a new system has been proposed but what plan will be decided upon God knows - His age & small & his health is not regard as it ever
all these things help

to make us any way
anxious, as you
know what a little Grenville I hear of little Malpas & Buller I can not help feeling amused when I see them little as they are separated & they feel that their Grenville has not been more attended to
of course all this is for generally however than letter for God sake I have been very ill
regard with it Bunthorpe's fine

(FF circa 9 May 1811. cf. ref. here
to "Tomorrow will be the day year you
(After 28 April, cf. 93) came" and 61)

in my face which has afforded me to keep my own but I am to share with the rest of day - I am well
is nearly well -
So much my dear Mrs Adams will be the
day year you come to see at Cambridge Judge, which a year
it has been to us both & how grateful shall I ever feel to you
for your kindness
in having your
me up so much of your time -
My dear husband

leaves us Tuesday -
I hope Mrs Adams
has got a daughter
I hope she will be as amiable & sweet a
child as the others
My husband to have
I hope Mrs Adams
is not more if but better - Our Venables
is very ill & Baillie says the only chance
he has is giving a very few two months for change of air & in
my & strong there
his being which is much affected
Yours affectionately
G. Adams

