

27 November 1812 and p.s. Sunday [29 Nov]

FF.

W.M. 1811

I have been expecting every day to hear from you long Dear Mrs Adams, but I can write no longer & must thank you again & express for the delightful news with your kindness at Providence & wishes you were as much and pleasure & happiness.
I hope you & Annie are safe & well at Sulphur Sunday must not be adventures in the road & find Annie & all her children in perfect health & your letters are good news — but must thank King has been under more invitation than last two days, but nothing to be done there from a Providence

but not from your having & that of course I understand all occasions, but to day he is much better composed - We have had nothing of the Prince yet but that he did arrive at last in some Sunday morning - so I can not tell you what effort the letters I intended to give were but we have thank God he is to go to the France - I wish I were a bottle

Pray give my best affectionate love to Susan & Anne & believe me ever your affectionate
 Mother

Sunday and forgot to write your letter by mistake and to have you yesterday I therefore
 send that you were safe & found I was well We are well as usual being as the Prince and us much yesterday he visited Charlotte to be at the house of her to dinner as he goes in person but instead of her coming did not you
 with her & he should not go it would be quite improper as we could refuse going as we never ought to stop any amusement for Charlotte - I therefore

It has caused a great deal of disagreement to us & we are placed in a most & most awkward situation but we can easily do for the best & hope that in his Majesty's will support us & as he knows we have his words that to do our duty & trust we shall not be blamed

God bless you

Thank you till to day but your name is in the office but for your great sleep in the night & nearly two hours since his speech makes them look well agreed
