My dear Mrs Adams

I write not delay and then hurried expressing my thanks for your last kind letter, by which I rejoice to find you are better, but grieve to hear of your (Mr Patterson's death) how I do feel for his poor wife & shall be quite anxious to hear you still are here also inform I send my heart quite shaks for her - Mr D of York told me yesterday he was one of the friends young Gen. Desjardins & a great Co - I think the last Gazette on the subject of St. Sebastian really rather we don't wish the loss is a dreadful

St. Seb...

In an very anxious for some substantial and I fear some Army we in want of every thing - indeed this is a first critical moment for all Europe & we are beginning to hear something from our allies - All the reports are good in our mind & hope for the best Since I write we have been in some & near the Gang River of Hungary when I am charmed with the the is quite back to the Army

The papers sent perfectly good & very valuable for me & the other letters but unfortunately but will require to have my de & the bill but we need more interesting accounts this evening I am greatly when we I am looking my bill the day past is quite recovered ^{on} health but still looks ill — I give you have had good accounts of George — Charlotte our son also have my all for some times hoped in a low degree my which has attained all the friends she is to try & come to London on Monday & my wife can do my duty but I fear she will not be able to do much - My aff. love to Annie I hope you take your leave soon & that resolution will be happy - My wife Augusta is in a comfortable state

Yours
