April the 29th 1823

Many thanks dear Mrs. Colver for your kind letter ^{received} on the 25th your invitation & kind invitation of this day is gratefully & gratefully received - I hope to get tickets for your Grand Dinner for next Wednesday week only I beg leave to write to the Archbishop of York & think he will not disappoint me - always with happy to be able to be of any use to you - William called Sunday but I was out Just think God is wonderful better but this last part come at a bad moment & disappointed because the Drawing was not to be done - I have had but taken your private - I can see however to day taking will be you to matter to your matters next week - I have been informed a week with the plan of I have been heard - but in letters - I have delight to me — I have been lately (Melancho) in a deplorable state of health they still talk of returning to England — suggested that I should
