

Monday January 20th 1805

105

I have been here these days without writing you one line by word I am kind Ben George would not stamp, but for will I have believe my anxiety when I tell you that actually I have not had a moment to myself, we arrived here some time after three, on Saturday some morning at 10 o'clock, & yesterday the same which will it over as I must for my scheme, for indeed the writing to you last done was in such a comfort, that I never find it of Dr. Brown's papers - I must think you very kind & kind for your done with in writing kind kind of you to interest yourself & anxiety in my concerns, I have had the prescriptions & cover of paper you it has given one cover, to day however I am not so well what I chiefly attribute to the cold for it is enough to hold me - The done helped to. I am not better about, yesterday he was most truly hurried & to day & Charles I did not like him, he is distracted in making the arrangements for the Bible & has put himself in such a state that it is quite alarming - I do not believe that any thing further has been settled relative to the Archbishops as the B. for the B. of Norwich has yesterday to an opinion it to his family & then said to me "I was resolved not to give up my right & this choice is not from partiality but my conscience that dictates it - I assure you my done done has that my thoughts are given with you, & I long to have done for me giving on; I must wish not to see you again, but that wish must not only for the present moment as had known I was more in the world of you - I return for the generous letter & highly approve of done done's intention of showing it a certain Lord; had forgive me if I do have an injustice, but I think it very like Conroy - as to myself I was more to give for a faithful report; I have seen but little of our Brown as riding is out of the question; however the first evening I played with Prederick & saw him the two succeeding evenings at 10 o'clock more & as you like truth & honesty I will candidly own that I do not kind as yet that I have never to report of the great opinion I have formed of him, but this is all I can venture to say and I hope my kind friend will admit that this should be a continuance of my loyalty - Indeed what you have told me is not thrown away even I do it to bring to the mind as I never feel considering your mind as mine I allow myself to indulge - I hope that I am prepared - I hope to trust that within you in I have not let me know a line to you - I am beginning to have some fear you are at sea about you - The day is the same as that which always to be out of a Sunday, as that you are somewhat stronger evidence - The I is in a kind manner, it is very windy with her, but very different with me as here is about St. Paul when a black heart - The British manner to the Chamberlain come to day, he says he has dispatched the King's message to his friends by express - God bless you my very dear friends, say any thing must be said & affectionate to my dear Savage & wife, Thomas and his to your dear Mother believe me ever your affectionate & grateful friend

St. John
J