My dear Madam -

It was not till the day before Yesterday that I received your very obliging letter, which as will be understood soon my excuse. I trust, for not having come to indeed immediately sent her answer.

I certainly received & read yours with much pleasure, as it was a proof of our former acquaintance not being altogether lost, as I dropped in on either side good wishes, & cordial wishes for every future welfare in that, as kindly in the most words, Enclaps your name, & from me too, as I must say, <sup>has</sup> been uniform in an other time to me, could not but was so very believing the feeling, that perception / has could not find it to any its word in any degree —

I beg you to be assured of my very sincere regard, & that I shall always look with pleasure to the annual letter from you, that I in return may know, & that you have intervened, that you have not abstracted from my memory.

Believe me

My dear Madam
with much esteem

Yours very truly
