Le Roy a parlés, il est sur-
son garde, on ne supconer pas l'amie, il faut, qu'il sera, bien, sur son garde,

Caroline

This was writ when she was queen

The King has spoke, He was upon his guard,
that the friend be not suspected, let him be well upon his guard.

As the King had spoke to Mr. Walpole pursuant to some advice given him by Mr. Clayton, this letter was to give a caution that Mr. Clayton sh^d be upon his guard, not to discover from whence the advice came.
