

My Friend - you have told me you like M^{rs} Fobry - get you take him off - what has Miss Harriet Finch done worse than you - pardon this little severity.
The only resentment I feel against her is that she did not let me join in the laugh against myself - if there was any thing illintended in the scribbles of the Toad she did might not to show me the consequence to spare me the pain of finding out she was wrong & before ! for she must already be sensible that I know she was in error! I have had y^e. satisfaction of being useful to her & acting a friendly part by her - this perhaps makes her less address its coming to my knowledge, & I really pity her for nothing can be more distressing to a mind not totally callous than such a sensation - she has told me that Dr. G. was a great favorite of hers!! Do not write to her but direct my love thro' M^{rs}. Jackson you for that purpose. Adieu my fr^d. ever sincerely yours
