Draft of Speech

My Lords & Gentlemen

His Majesty has commanded us to acquaint you that the state of the Public Business enables His Majesty to close this Session of Parliament.
We are at the same
time directed to express to you the great satis-faction which H. M.
has derived from your unremitting Zeal and diligence, and from that attention to the most important
interests of His Empire which has been so conspicuously manifested in

in all your proceedings.

The measures
which have been adopted for the permanent improvement of the various branches of
our Military System,
your attention to combine these arrangements with the great object of Public Economy, and the regulations
which you have established for the speedy & effectual audit of the Public accounts, call for His Majesty's particular
acknowledgments.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,
We have it in command

command from His Majesty to thank you for the Provision which you have made for the various exigencies of the Public Service, particularly by raising within the year so very large a proportion of the necessary supplies. A measure in itself highly advantageous, and which must create both at home and abroad the most favourable impression of our national resources, and of the spirit which animates the British People.

you

you may be assured that the utmost
attention shall be paid to the frugal
administration of those supplies which you have so liberally
granted.

His Majesty is particularly sensible
of the fresh proof He has received of your affectionate attach-ment to Him in the provision which you have made for ena-bling the younger
Branches of His Royal Family to meet the necessary expences
of

their station.

My Lords & Gentlemen,
His Majesty being always anxious for the restoration of Peace on just and honourable terms is engaged in discussions with a view to the accomplish-ment of this most desirable end — Their success must depend on a corresponding disposition on the part of the Enemy.
And in every event
His Majesty looks with the fullest confidence to the continuance

of that Union and Public Spirit among all ranks of His People which can alone give Energy
to War or Security
to Peace.

inclosed dispatches from Lord Yarmouth, together with a copy of the treaty & secret articles signed by M. D'Outril, and which Lord Grenville received today from discrepancy of this transaction, together with the language of Mr. D'Arville's letter to the hope that some credit is due to Count of the difficult situation which results from this unfortunate event, and from Lord the best course would be to send instructions a person of more experience & authority to and to proceed to Paris in order to bring back the negotiation to the principles on which it first set out, and which Lord that Lord Galloway has suffered to be a great deal too much lost sight of.

And Lord Granville hopes to be enabled tomorrow to submit to your Majesty some some proper person for that purpose.

And Greenwell reports exceedingly that the continuance of Mr. Fox's severe illness has thrown upon him the weight

Despatches from Lord Jermouth and the Articles of the Treaty signed

Proposal to send to Paris as soon as possible a Person of more
