Sir

Lord North has taken the resolution to support the present Administration, & he intends for that purpose to bring as many of his friends to Town as possible against the passing of the Bill.
He will probably also write to your Majesty. I will be at the Office on Wednesday

It is wished that we should promote this good disposition in his Majesty's Court Majesty could be pleased to show him as much countenance as you can without creating jealousy in others. The person who writes this knows too well that there are others who are naturally of a very jealous disposition. This comes from a dutiful respect to his Majesty.
