

14854-5

Proposed Estab. of Army for year 1810

Jan. 12 1810

Most Humbly Submitted to His Majesty

That the Establishment of the several corps of the Army for the Year 1810, be fixed at the Numbers, specified in the annexed Plan, by which it is Most Humbly Proposed to His Majesty; that the Dragoon Regiments upon the British and Irish Establishment, be fixed at 800 Rank and File, with the Exception of the 9th and 19th Light Dragoons, whose effective Strength does not warrant a higher Establishment, than the former corps at 600 Rank and File, and the latter at 400 Rank and File; as also the 1st Dragoon Guards, which Regiment, having two Troops more than the other corps of Cavalry will be at the Establishment of 960, Rank and File.

That

0181 81 v

That the Regiments of Cavalry in the East Indies, continue at the same Establishment as last Year, with the Exception of the 25th Light Dragoons, which Corps is proposed to be 1000 Rank and File, in consequence of an increase to their Effective Numbers.

That the Regiments of Cavalry serving in Spain, continue also at the same Establishment, as the last Year, with the Exception of the 23rd Light Dragoons, which Corps is proposed to be 600 Rank and File, in consequence of the Decrease in their Effective Numbers.

That the Royal Waggon Train, at present consisting of 12 Troops of 940 Rank and File, be reduced to 7 Troops of 70 Rank and File each, with 350 Horses only.

That the Regiments of

M. 12 1810

Foot Guards be reduced to 120 Rank and File, per Company, in consequence of a Decrease in their effective Numbers.

That the Battalions of Infantry Regiments of the Line be placed upon the Establishment of,

- 400
- 600
- 800
- 1000

1200 Rank and File, according to their effective strength, as detailed in the annexed Plan, vizt. when a Regiment exceeds 400, it should be established at 600, when it exceeds 600 to be 800, and so on in Proportions.

That the same Rule be observed with the Veteran Battalions, the Foreign Corps, and those not numbered; and in proposing the Establishments according to the Effective Strength of a Regiment, which which consists of more than one Battalion, the aggregate Strength of the Battalions is taken into Calculation, for instance, if the effective Strength exceeds the Establishment of a 1st Battalion, such overplus is considered with the Strength of the 2nd Battalion, and so on.

Recruiting Companies are allowed to such Regiments as are upon Foreign Service, and have not any Battalion at home for the purpose of carrying on the Recruiting Service, and Eight Rank and File are allowed to each Battalion, so circumstances.

That the West India Regiments should continue at the same Establishment as the last Year, with the Exception of the (3rd) which Corps is proposed to be 800 Rank and File, in 14856.

Memoranda

12th January 1810

Proposed Establishment of the Army for the Year 1810 consequence of a Decrease in their Effective Numbers.

That the 7th and 8th Garrison Battalions (being composed of limited Service Men) be transferred into the other Garrison Battalions stationed in Ireland, and which will then place these Battalions at the Establishment of 800 Rank and File.

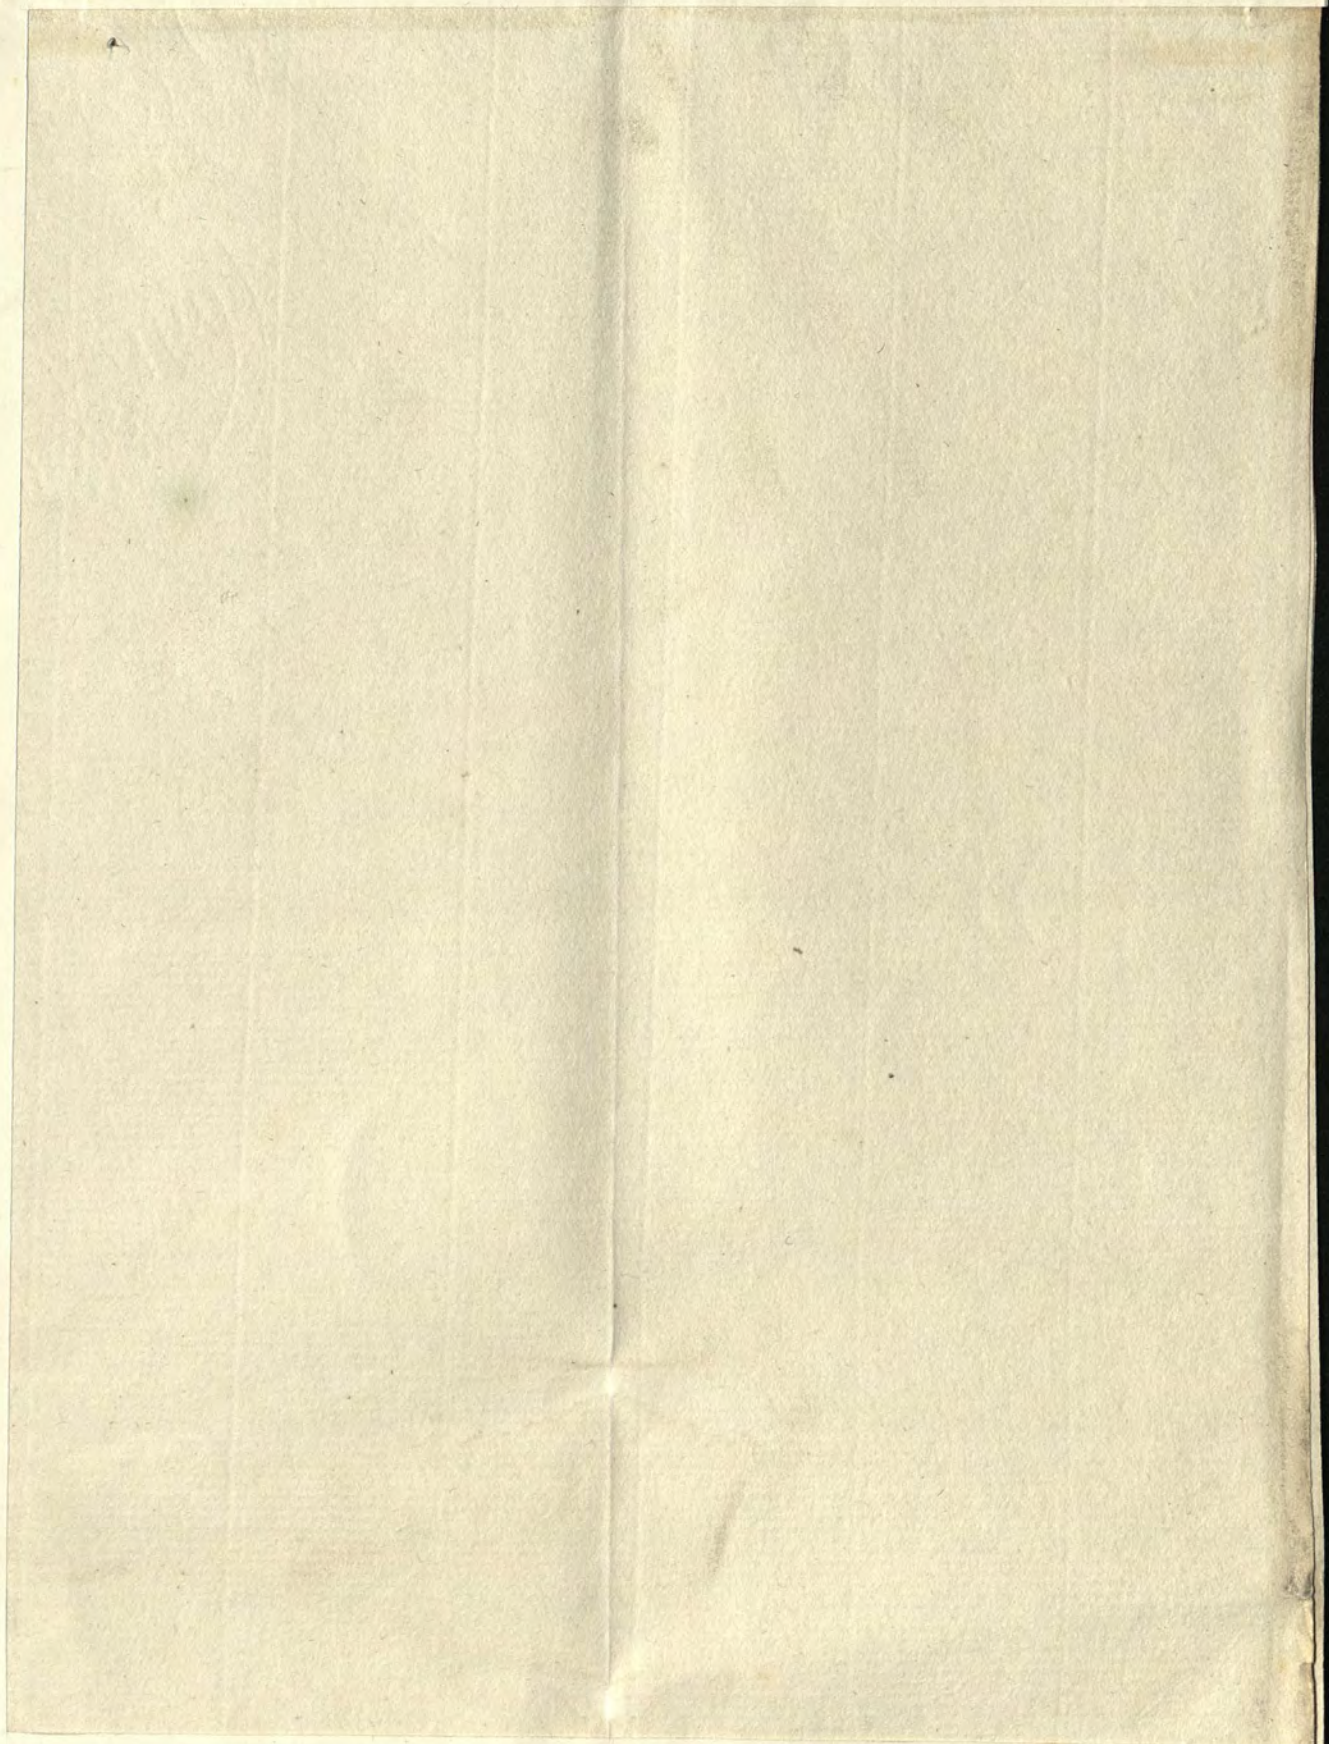

That the Officers of the 7th and 8th Garrison Battalions be placed on Half pay, and such as are capable of active Duty to be Exchanged to the Full pay of Regiments of the Line, in the room of Officers who are candidates for such Retirement.

That the Muz Fencibles be reduced to 4 Companies of 100 Rank and and File each, with the usual proportion of Officers and Non commissioned Officers; - The Officers beyond such Establishment, to be reduced.

Sire

It is with reluctance, proportioned only to the sentiments of dutiful respect and gratitude with which my heart is filled, that I presume to approach Your Majesty on occasion of the vacancy ^{of late been frequently} which has reported to me to be likely to place in the See of Landaff:—a reluctance which nothing could have enabled me to overcome, but that due regard for my own estimation in the world, without which I should deem myself unworthy of Your Majesty's notice and protection.

It is, in fact, Your Majesty's gracious Condescension, and expressions of unmerited goodness towards me, ~~which have, of late, on~~ ~~every similar occasion~~ (combined with the services in which it has been my pride to be employed about your Majesty's person,) which have, of late, on every similar occasion, excited a very general expectation that I should be raised to the situation to which my predecessors have, for so many years past, uniformly attained.

- Thus it is that conjecture in every shape, has been as frequently set to work in order to account for the postponement of my claims: & that objects have, ^{consequently} received a value in my estimation, which they would otherwise never have possessed, & to which I should otherwise never have presumed to aspire.

has received several applications upon the same subject, ^{on behalf of the Dean of Windsor} since the Les had the honor of being in his private office, and fully apprized as he is of the great ~~importance~~ ^{importance} of the Dean of Windsor's Character, He should have had no hesitation in promising either to the Dean himself, or to The Earl of Dartmouth, that he would recommend the Dean to your Majesty upon a vacancy, occurring on the Bench of Bishops, if he had not inherited from the D of Bathurst, the experience of the extreme inconveniences, occasioned to your Majesty's service, by promises made at any distance from the time when they are to be carried into execution; or what time Circumstances wholly unexpected at the period of making the promise, may render the performance of it equally inconvenient -

- Mr Deane however is ready to consider this Case as forming an exception, if your Majesty should think right that it should be so; and will with your Majesty's approbation communicate your Majesty's intention to the Dean of London - Mr Deane however has to observe / what increases the objection ^{he has felt} That the Bp of Landaff from the last accounts

London Jan 13 - 1810

Mr Ryder has the Honor of informing Your Majesty that the Sheriff of London waited on him by Appointment on Thursday last and read to him a Copy of one of the Resolutions passed at a Common Hall on the 9th Inst.

"That the Sheriff attended by Mr Memminger do forthwith wait upon His Majesty, and deliver into His Majesty's Hands in the Name of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen & Sherrifs of London a fair Copy of the Resolutions agreed to this day signed by the Town Clerk."

They insisted in the course of a desultory conversation upon the different modes of presenting Addresses to your Majesty, on the Right of the Sheriff to have the Honor of an Audience of Your Majesty when deputed by the Privy as well as by the Common Council and they cited the Precedents of 1797- & 1800 which appear to relate to Addresses of the Privy only and not of the Privy & Common Council in respect of the usage on which they rested the claim.

Mr. Ryder did not think it his Duty to allow their Claim to the extent to which they urged it; but to avoid all misapprehension upon the subject of their application to him, he desired them to put it in writing, and ^{added} that he would return an answer in the same manner.

They accordingly wrote the letter which Mr.
Ryder has now the Honor of enclosing to Your Majesty as ~~above~~ ^{copy of the} Answer, which upon Majesty's confidential servants, ~~who~~ met today upon the subject have agreed upon as proper to be submitted to Your Majesty's consideration and to be forwarded to the Sheriff if it should meet with Your Majesty's gracious approbation.

As the Lord Chancellor was not sufficiently recovered to attend the Council, Mr Ryder had an interview with him at his own house, and his lordship's concern in opinion with ^{through} Your Majesty's confidential servants who are now in London.

That the Sheriff of London when deputed by the living have in some instances been permitted the Honor of an Audience appears to be clear from an Extract of the Proceedings of Common Halls in 1800 with which Mr Ryder has been furnished, and which he has now the Honor of enclosing to Your Majesty.
But whether exclusive of that Prudent and another in 1797 of a similar nature, there have been any and what other instances of the same kind Mr Pyder has not been able to ascertain, or how far the Sheriffs are warranted in the operation they made to him and which was confirmed by the City Remembrancer, that the Sheriffs had never been refused an Audience: but it should seem that there is no ground upon principle, upon which the Sheriffs of London, when deputed by the Livery can claim that privilege, which might equally apply to every other Class and Description of Your Majesty's Subjects.

Mr Pyder humbly submits to Your Majesty the propriety of marking in the Answer the distinct Character of the Sheriffs, when deputed by the Common Council, a Body who have an acknowledged legal existence, and when deputed by the 5 14875

Livery, who are not, as Mr Snyder is informed enjoyed by the Charter, as a Corporation, in order to deviate as far as may be ~~the~~ ^{any} construction ~~of the same~~ ^{of} Your Majesty's servants had advised Your Majesty to take a manner, which would have the effect of depriving the Body Corporate of the City of their just rights.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty.

Memorial of Geo Stone
January 13. 1810

The humble Petition of George Stone First Clerk of His Majesty's Household,

Most humble sheweth that your Petitioner will, next month, have held the honorable Situation of Second & First Clerk of your Majesty's Household during the space of seventeen years - That, although your Majesty's humble Petitioner does not presume to found his claim to a further mark of your Majesty's favor upon any peculiarly meritorious conduct, during the time he has served in those situations, he yet ventures to believe that he has not to reproach himself with having, on any occasion, been wanting in attention to the business which it has been his duty to conduct in such His Majesty's Service;

Your Majesty's Petitioner is at the same time induced to flatter himself that the experience of so many years may be considered by your Majesty to have duly qualified your Petitioner for the superior and more important situation of Master of your Majesty's Household now vacant. Your Majesty's Petitioner therefore ventures most humbly to express his hope that your Majesty may be graciously disposed to raise your Petitioner to that rank in your Majesty's Household which is so much the object of his ambition, And your Majesty's Petitioner, as in duty bound, shall ever pray

Mr Percival has humbly to acquaint your Majesty, that Mr Geo Villiers has resigned his situation as Paymaster of the Marines, and Mr Percival hopes that your Majesty will excuse Mr Percival's not having acquainted your Majesty with this event immediately ^{or} as occurred, when he stole to your Majesty, that reason for withholding the information for a few days - Mr Percival thought (and he has been since confirmed by Mr Villiers himself that he was right in that opinion) that Mr Villiers would be desirous of acquainting your Majesty with the circumstances himself, and offering the first to apprise your Majesty of it - For that reason Mr Percival has abstain'd from mentioning it, till he could feel assured that Mr Vickers must have been able to obtain an opportunity of mentioning it - It is much to be lamented that Mr Vickers had for many years relinquished the management of his office with too unbounded a confidence to his Chief Clerk - The accounts were at very lately, many years unexamined and un-audited, considerable queries have been made lately to bring them up. They have now been audited up to the year 1804. inclusive - The Balance against Mr Vickers in the audit of that year is about 200,000. Mr Deereval had heard that this was the state of the account, as it appeared upon that audit, and that reports were circulating upon the subject to such an extent as to make it impossible to hope that it would not become the subject of Parliamentary discussion. Mr Deereval therefore sent to Mr office, and offer to make over in trust for the public service this Palace at his property -

- This step he having deliberately determined to take after communication with his Brother in Law Lord Brougham, Mr Devereux could not certainly think of dissuading him from taking it - Mr Devereux has communicated with Lord Mulgrave upon the subject of the office - They have agreed that it should be put upon a new footing; that the Palace should not be suffered to remain in the Regent's hands, and that measures should be taken to prevent such a case occurring in future
- Prefer however that an arrangement can be
