London July 2^d 1810

Lord Mulgrave begs most humbly to submit for your Majesty's Pleasure the appointment of Captain Moorsom of the Royal Navy to be Surveyor General of the Ordnance in the Place of Colonel Hadden. The desire naturally felt by Mr Yorke to have the assistance of this Problem Sir Joseph Yorke at the Board of Admiralty has left Captain Moorsom at Liberty to undertake the duties of Surveyor General of the Ordnance, and the Experience which Lord Mulgrave had of the great Talents for Business and indefatigable activity of Captain Moorsom induces Him to be desirous of availing Himself of those Qualities in the Department which your Majesty has been graciously pleased to commit
