

Draft of following

May 28 1776

16068

Lord North, The letter I received this day from You in answer to ~~Misses~~ Yesterday is the amplest proof of your affectionate feelings for Me; the Bishop of Litchfield has with great modesty and propriety agreed to come as Preceptor to the Children I shall therefore ^{direct} ~~order~~ Lord Howe and him to come and kiss hands at the Levee on Friday; I wish you would communicate my last letter to Lord Dartmouth as ^{an requisite} ~~as~~ he should exactly know the springs on which I have acted.

New May 28th 1776.

[Faint, illegible handwritten text in cursive script, likely a letter or document fragment.]