

Ld. Chancellor (Thurlow)

16679

Sunday
13. May 1752

In obedience to your Majesty's Commands, the Chancellor transmits for your Majesty's Information the enclosed Paper.

16680

He observes, that no account is given of the Debt; not even of that Part, incurred for Carlton House, which, perhaps, may claim a separate consideration, as being an account, upon which publick money was voted; but, unfortunately, being issued to the Prince's Surveyor, left His Royal Highness in Debt for the escape of the estimate which could not have happened in the regular channel, the Board of works nor is the Plan, or even Prospect yet started, of providing satisfaction for the creditors, or obtaining their forbearance.