

operations, will embark with this Regiment.

You may depend on my sending Colonel Spawken in a few days but it is thought material he should stay here till the answer arriv from Hannover, how soon they first four thousand Men can begin their March towards the Rhine, and as by your letters the Prince of Orange has not yet fixed where they shall enter the Republic, nor what quarters shall be prepared for them, this delay cannot be of much consequence.

My Accounts from Batavia are very favourable and I trust shall see the Dutchess on Monday at Windsor. Believe me most sincerely
