My Dearest Sister,

I should not have denied to myself the Satisfaction of going to Blackheath Tomorrow and of expressing to you in Person my Congratulations upon the Occasion of your Birth Day, if I had not felt the Necessity of abstaining from going, as while you were still in Mourning. — I must therefore content myself with conveying to you in writing the Assurance of my best and most affectionate wishes upon the Return of this Day, and of the sincere & warm Interest which I shall ever take in your Welfare and Happiness, and in all that regards your Family.

That you may long enjoy Health and every Blessing which this life affords is the anxious Prayer of
A. My Dearest Sister

Your most affectionate Brother

Signed
George
