Admiralty Office
Feb. 7th 1811.

The Marine Commissions have ordinarily been sent to His Majesty, on the morning of every Thursday, to receive his Royal Signature; but were not sent this morning to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, as it was understood that His Royal Highness did not wish to receive communications on business which was not immediately pressing.
They

They are now sent to receive his Royal Highness's gracious signature at his convenient Leisure.

All which is most humbly submitted for His Royal Highness's most gracious Pleasure & for his further commands.

W. Hooper.
