Admiralty off.
Feb 7. 1801

Mr Croker presents his compliments to Col MacMahon and has the honor to acknowledge that his Royal Highness's the Prince Regent's pleasure, as signified in Col MacMahon's note, shall be obeyed,

Mr Croker has this evening had the honor of submitting to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, certain Marine Commissions in order that they may receive His Royal Highness's

17525

John Wilson Croker

King's signature.

Mr Croker has noted on the commission that lies first in the box the place in which the King has been hitherto graciously pleased to write his signature in the form of "George R."

Mr Croker begs leave further to acquaint (al. the Majesty that the public service does not require the immediate signature of the Marine

Marine Commissions and that they wait His Royal Highness's convenience & gracious pleasure."
