Apsey House 10th April 1811

Lord Wellesley requests Your Royal Highness to accept his humble & grateful acknowledgments for Your Royal Highness' gracious condescension in having been pleased to signify to him the mark of honor which had been conferred, under Your Royal Highness' commands, upon the Officer, who was so fortunate as to be the bearer of Lord Wellington's last dispatches.

Lord Wellesley humbly receives this intimation of Your Royal Highness's pleasure, as a high distinction of Lord Wellington's services; while he is deeply sensible of Your Royal Highness's indulgent favor, in having directed, that he should be made acquainted with the promotion, at so early a moment.
