

That an humble Address be presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent that His Royal Highness will be graciously pleased to take in His Consideration the practice of Flogging Soldiers and that His Royal Highness will be graciously pleased to issue such Orders to Officers commanding Regiments and Corps of Regiments as shall to His Royal Highness wisdom, appear best calculated to restrain and finally to abolish that most unnecessary and ignominious mode of punishment —

Copy of address moved by Mr F
Burdett,

18 June 1811

