Lord Suffolk has the Honour to submit to Your Majesty the Dra^t. of an Answer to the Prince of Orange's official Letter: Also, a Dispatch from M^r. Elliot from Paris, where it seems he has made rather a longer Bait than was expected. This Dispatch shows Zeal & Activity; But as L^d. S. does not know the Character of Count D'Eyck, he cannot form an exact Idea of the Prudence of some part of the young Minister's Conduct. The former Letter which
