Mr Goldsmith presents his respects to General Turner & says he will have the goodness to transmit to His Royal Highness The Prince Regent,

A Book which accompanies this letter, entitled Recueil des Manifestes, Discours de Par-donnance. comme General, comme Consul, et comme Empereur, ^{in 3 Parts bound in one volume} all extracted from the Moniteur.

Mr G. has sent to His Royal Highness ^{they were} the Prince Regent, his several works when first published namely 1. 3. & 6th Edition of his

Secret History of the Cabinet of Bonaparte, 2 a Translation of that work into French, as also a Pamphlet on the Conduct of France towards America, but he does not know that his Royal Highness has ever received them General Turner will very much oblige Mr Goldsmith if he can ascertain that these publications were put into the hands of His Royal Highness, whose approbation will always be an encouragement for Mr Goldsmith to continue his exertions in the exposure of the greatest enemy Human Nature ever had to encounter.
