Capt. Cartwright
R.N.

Drawings

18635

Capt. Cartwright has presented his Compt. to Mr. Gen. Turner, & has the honour to inform him that on Monday next he proposes leaving Town for two months or more.

Should, however, the Prince Regent intend viewing the Drawings of the Naval Temple, and there should be time for the information reaching Capt. Cartwright who will be either in Nottinghamshire or Yorkshire, he would not fail returning to Town at any time that might suit the Prince to renew his with his Commands

During Capt. C's remaining stay in town his time, except on Sunday, will be fully occupied with preparations for, and the trial of, a naval experiment.

But if on Sunday it would afford any amusement to the General to see the Drawings, Capt. C. would be happy in showing them at any hour the General may name.
