Stratford, July 21st
1912.

My conscience chides me because if I mistake not I omitted saying something to you about Dr. Sellsby before I came out of town. He had not then engaged himself with the Opposition. I urged him strongly to avoid connection with them, & I believe the advice made impression. My counsel was that in the event of the Prince's desiring him to form an Administration

-tion, he should not think of sending to them but at all: had I told him that I had ~~thrice~~ - ~~more~~ I believed efficaciously, to make one of ~~the~~ ~~other~~ the other Party withdraw the objection they ~~had~~ ~~made~~ had made to treating with him. Some of ~~the~~ ~~other~~ their own interest will lead them to effect ~~of~~ ~~it~~ being satisfied with the explanations which ~~will~~ ~~be~~ be made in the House. You see I look ~~for~~ ~~an~~ forward to a Probability of a change of ~~the~~ ~~Ministry~~ Ministry. The state of the Country, ~~has~~ ~~been~~ ~~in~~

of them but deeply dissatisfied, will force that necessity
- me, and when the necessity comes it will
- of be my sudden. I am cutting down all
- in the establishments here with an unflinching
- hand, & fashioning rigidly the plan of
- effect of future life. It promises me more grati-
- fication than I have experienced in
- active scenes, so that the preparations
- for it are not as uncomfortable as
- you might think. Faithfully yours Ld.
