Dear Sir
Jan'y 30th

My dear Sir

Such as my heart is, for all that you have just communicated to me, has, and in what seems to me I wish you, in saying me to His Royal Highness's Court, to convey to them the full force of my feelings, for this news, and singular act of His admirable goodness, desirable as is the objekt in itself, it has still increased such an additional value by His Royal Highness's assent of doing it. That I have only been, and may be interrupted, in your

My Dear Friend I have ^{the} pleasure to do you further and to believe you in ^{the} genuine language of unaffected sincerity. Yours

With truly and affectionately

W. Deane
