My Dear friend

C. Ship, apparently homeward bound, seems inclined to speak to us: so I get this ready to apprise you that we have cleared the Channel.
The wind is as fair as it can blow, & strong. Thanks to the energy attached us, we can avail ourselves but insuffi-ciently of it. With double respect we go too fast for some of the ships which have put out every ray of canvas they can carry.

Faithfully yours

Thos

Lat 36.35. May 12.

The ship did not come to us: but we have this day stopped a Spanish bound to Cadix; & I wish this of him. We have had a fine talk with a Spaniard. Most of our crew have lost hearts. The Defiance Private has lost two. We came off with having every sail shivered to pieces. We are however all well. Adieu
