Sir John Sinclair to Col. Sec. H. H. H.

1813

Sir,

I hope that His Royal Highness, the Prince Regent, will have the goodness to peruse the inclosed account of the last competition of Highland Pipers.—

His Royal Highness I trust will approve of the exertions of the Highland Societies of London, and of Edinburgh, for keeping up so warlike an Instrument, as the Highland Pipe, and preserving

preserving the peculiar martial music adapted to it. -

I also thought, that this was a favourable opportunity of impressing on the public mind in Scotland, the policy of interchanging the militias of England, Scotland and Ireland, and of uniting the three nations, by affection, as well as by law, into one great community. -

His Royal High-
ness may be assured, that the Highlanders of Scotland, feel as much zeal for promoting

promoting the public prosperity; and as much fidelity and attachment to his Royal person and government, as any description of his Majesty's subjects; which would soon appear, if any opportunity occurred, where those traits of the true Highland Character, were called for, and could be properly displayed. -

I have the honour
to be,

Sir,

Your faithful & obt. Servant
Charlotte Square
Edinburgh. } John Sinclair
