Sir

Having understood that His Royal Highness The Duke of Devon is expected at Carlton House today, may I trouble you humbly to request an audience

for me. —

Should His Royal Highness's stay however be too short to honour me with his commands to wait upon him,

I would then humbly request permission to submit the Proceedings of Carlton House (now waiting His Royal Highness's pleasure) directly to His Royal Highness the Commander in Chief, with a Minute of each Observation, as the duties of my Office would have appeared to me, to require under the circumstances of each case, I did I bid them before His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in person. — and I am further induced to make this humble request of His Royal Highness, as the Proceedings now to be disposed of, do not contain any points either of novelty or intricacy, and are not very numerous. —

One further request I may perhaps be permitted to trouble you with — His Royal Highness's generous permission that I may go into the Country, as the duties of my Office do not,

C. Hanners Sutton to Gen. Turber.

After the disposal of the Proceedings above referred to, seem to require I present my personal Acknowledgements in Form

I have the honor to be

Sir

Y^r Obedt^l Servant
