Market,
October 11th, 1813.

My dear Sir,

I cannot sufficiently apologize to you
for being so troublesome, & importunate.

I vow to God that I am in the greatest distress - & the smallest favour
would be gratefully acknowledged.

I am satisfied

that if his Royal Highness the Prince
Regent was made acquainted with
with my present
situation - that H.R.
Highness would order me
some relief,

May I once more solicit a few pounds from you?

Believe me

My dear Sir

Yr much obliged

& devoted humble servt.

Augustus Barry
