No. 2. London Road, Southwark,

27th. October 1813. —

Sir,

If I had offended you, no distress on my part, could warrant, nor excuse my perseverance, but, Sir, as a Respectful-Claimant, anxious to derive my Liberty, from useful Employment under the Auspices of so Respectable an Institution, I trust you will pardon the repetition of my Appeal to your feelings, — I have the Honour to be with a respectful consideration, Sir, Y^r. obed^t. Serv^t.

My dear Mother
I have just received your kind letter of the 14th and was glad to hear from you and to hear that you were all well. I am well at present and hope these few lines will find you all the same.
I have not much news to write at present. I am still at home and hope to stay so for some time longer. I have not yet heard from your sister and am sorry to hear that she is not well. I hope she will soon be better. I have not heard from your brother either.
