My dearest Brother

Ever happy to converse with you. I cannot neglect so pleasant an opportunity to renew the assurances of my sincere affection; as the Journey of my eldest Son the Prince Royal of Württemberg who intends paying you my dear Brother a short visit in England

I take the liberty to recommend this Prince to your notice and friendship; trusting that though at first the kindness you will shew him will be out of affection for me, on better acquaintance you will like him for his own sake. I am sure that the esteem he there gains by his gallant behaviour on all occasions during this campaign will make this conversation interesting to you and that your knowing how much I am attached to him will induce you on all occasions to be friendly towards him. - I hope my dear Brother to have soon again an opportunity to write, therefore will now take my leave only adding the King's Compliments and remain with the sincerest Affection

My beloved Brother
 Most Affectionate Sister and sincere Friend

Charlotte
