Sir John Malcolm having just finished a history of Persia is very desirous of the honor personally of presenting a copy to the Prince Regent but as this history has from reasons connected with its origin been dedicated to the Marquis Wellesley. He is not certain whether the rules of etiquette will permit his having this qualification, he with esteem it a great favor if Mr. McMahon would let him know whether it is usual for his Royal Highness to permit any work not dedicated to him to be presented in the manner ~~of Sir J. Malcolm~~ Sir J. Malcolm wishes. - Sir J. M. just advised that Mr. McMahon will excuse the trouble he has given Yours truly
Thos. McMahon

him upon this subject, - His solicitude upon which arises from his great anxiety - to shew by every means within his limited powers his sincere respect, & devotion to his Royal Highness The Prince Regent.
