My Dear Lord

We are to meet at Lord Grenville's to night at half past nine to frame our Report, & as it is to be there finally determined what course is to be pursued I might be misleading you by saying any thing from myself But I have no doubt whatever that every thing will be done that is right & satisfactory -

It is not yet fixed when the King will get the report, as it depends upon what is done when we meet tonight.

Believe me to be My very Dear Lord both the greatest friend & ally & regard

Yours affectionately
