Dec 1822

My dear Friend

The Declarations which I here transmit to You, I have made out in some degree, by looking over the Books & Materials on the premises — I found ~~of~~ upon enquiry, that Mr. Watier at his will & pleasure, had lent Books &c to the different Tradesmen; this in the Bill given in has never been accounted for — I have now the pleasure of sending you the amount, which You will have the goodness to place against the different accounts — I believe there has been at Times a good deal of idle Play.

I was not easy about the different Services of State - I desired Dutton to get me an accurate Statement, this I inclose to You -

Will You have the kindness to send to Messrs of the S^r Chamberlains office, & say that I request He will explain to You respecting the old State & let us ^{know} whether this is the property of the Crown or the King's private Property -

I am afraid I plague You a good deal, but we must get it right -

Your father's most affectionately

Wm. Wright

Postcard

6. Decr 1822

To Mrs. Knight

With Acc^{ts} from Store of Reductions to be made from 1st to April 1822 for books under Mr. Rank at Brighton.

Service of Plate completed.

All service no longer wanted, & may be applied to liquidation of Acc^{ts}.

Y^{rs} of belonging to the General, or The King's private Property.

The Service of Plate completing for Brighton (and occasionally to be used at Carlton Palace, or elsewhere when the grand Service is not required) is composed of the Service of Plate ordered by His late Majesty for Kensington Palace, and which is all paid for, with such addition as was judged necessary to make it complete for forty persons. - In 1818 a Service of Plate was got forward for the use of the Royal yacht, or to be occasionally used at the Pavilion - but this after considerable progress made in it, was suspended for a time, it has since been finished with the addition of such articles as were necessary to complete the Service to the above extent - no part of these additions have been paid for - but in consequence of sundry old plate received & the value placed against it, and another lot looked out and laid by for the same purpose, the balance of the whole will be reduced as nearly as we can calculate to about £2980 - a statement of this has been delivered at the Lord Chamberlain's Office - and forms an Item in the outstanding accounts at that Office, when this Service is completed a great part of the old Service, may not be required, if it should be thought necessary to apply its value in further liquidation of the account.

Please to turn over

Mr. Mack is in possession of every particular respecting the outstanding demands of our firm and the proposed application of old Plate in liquidation of the Debt, and is able to give any further explanation which may be required. —

7.th Dec^r. 1822

My Dear Sir

According to the ^{intelligence} information received by Sir William ^{it seems that, after} Knighton, respecting the service of Plate completing for Brighton, (to be used there or elsewhere when the grand service is not required), it seems that, ^{shall be} after ~~this is~~ finished, great part of the old service ^{will} ~~may~~ not be wanted, and in case it should be thought necessary, to apply its value towards the liquidation of accounts, Sir William wishes to know whether this old Plate is the property of the Crown, or The King's private property, on which he desires me to refer to you for ^{information} ~~an explanation~~. It may be reasonably presumed that Plate possessed by His Majesty before the Regency would still continue private property; but ~~it is not mentioned whether~~ ^{whether the Plate in question is of that} ~~description, or whether useful Plate in general may be consid^red wholly as His Majesty's~~ ~~old service in question was so circumstanced, that you probably~~ ~~are fully informed on that point.~~ ~~disposal, you will be able to signify..~~

I am
 My Dear Sir

Very sincerely yours
 Robert Gray
