Lord North begs a thousand pardons for having omitted to present his Majesty with the inclosed warrants for his signature if approved; the important business which his Majesty mentioned to Lord North entirely put the warrants out of his head; He therefore, intreats his Majesty's pardon to send the warrants in this manner. He has added a letter he received some days ago from Major General Morris.
