

H. H. to Ld. North

Feb. 2 1778

2779

Lord North, I trust that when next the Committee on the state of the Nation is resumed, Gentlemen will be more ready to speak; as you of course must wait for the conclusion of it. I should think on such an occasion Lord J. Germaine might with great propriety have said a few words to put the defence in motion.

Lewis House

Feb. 2<sup>d</sup> 1778.

$\frac{m}{40}$  J. H. P. M.

Handwritten text in cursive script, likely a letter or document fragment. The text is mirrored across the page, suggesting it was written on the reverse side of the paper. The ink is dark and the handwriting is fluid and connected.

Handwritten text in cursive script, possibly a signature or a specific address. The text is also mirrored across the page.

2 x 6 1798