

Lord North
March 6.
Suppered . 1770

2800

Lord North has the honour of inclosing a note, he has just received from Mr Thurstun.

Lord North has the honour of informing his Majesty that the Loan of six millions are subscribed but upon exorbitant terms.

The subscribers to have  $\text{£ } 3\text{ } \frac{1}{2}\text{ } \frac{1}{2}$  . . . . . 67: 10: 0.
an ann<sup>y</sup>. of  $\text{£ } 2: 10: 0$ . for 30 years which the subscribers value at  $\frac{1}{4}$  p<sup>er</sup> cent. 35: 0: 0.
Eight lottery tickets for every  $\text{£ } 1000$  sub: scribed in a lottery of 40000 tickets which the subscribers value at  $\text{£ } 3: 1\text{ } \frac{1}{2}$  ticket . . . 2: 8: 6 $\text{£ } \underline{\underline{104. 18. 0}}$

This the subscribers call a premium of  $\text{£ } 4. 18. 6$  Sub

if the Stocks continue falling, it will not be so much, but if they remain at their present price or rise, the premium will be greater than the subscriber allows it to be, so that, upon the whole, the subscriber has avoided himself of the critical moment in which this country stands to expect ~~and~~ extravagant burgenia.
