Lucens House March 29. 1778. m
44. p. 11. P. M.

Lord North, I have read the proposed Bill for a provision for my six Youngest Sons and five Daughters, whenever it shall please the Almighty to end my life, and for the two Children of the Duke of Gloucester, whenever he shall die. I have no objection to any part of it, have therefore only corrected the name of my second Daughter, and filled the blank left for that of my Youngest Daughter.

I cannot at the same time help expressing my concern, at your recurring in a letter this Evening, to a measure I have repeatedly told you I never will submit to, as I look upon it as disgraceful to me, and destruction to my Kingdom and Family; but your never quitting this subject, and your avowed despondency, which is highly detrimental to my service, obliges me to ask the three following questions, to which I expect explicit answers in writing.

1. Do you think it possible to strengthen the present Administration by an accession of some Men of talents from Opposition?
2. If that cannot be effected, will you consent to continue, and try to exert yourself, and cooperate with me in putting vigour and activity into every Department.
3. If you decline continuing, you cannot I suppose refuse presiding at the Treasury, and finishing the business of this Session of Parliament, and not be surpris'd at my employing that short space of time in taking such steps as I may judge necessary for putting vigour into my Service, the first of which will be my instantly putting the Great Seal into the hands of the Attorney General.

Lord North, I have read the proposed Bill for a provision for my six youngest Sons, and Five Daughters, whenever it shall please the Almighty to end my life, and for the two Children of the Duke of Gloucester, whenever he shall die. I have no objection to any part of it, and have only corrected the name of my second Daughter and fill'd up the blank left for that of my youngest Daughter's Daughter.

I cannot at the same time help expressing my concern at your recurring in a letter of this Evening to a measure I have repeatedly told you I never will submit to, as I look upon it as disgraceful to me, and destruction to my Kingdom and Family; but your never quitting this subject, and your avowed dispondancy which is highly detrimental to my Service, obliges me to ask the three following questions to which I expect explicit answers in writing.

1. Do you think it possible to strengthen the present Administration by an accession of some Men of Talents from Opposition?
2. If that cannot be effected will you consent to continue and try to exert yourself, and cooperate with me in putting vigour and activity to every Department.
3. If you decline continuing you cannot I suppose refuse continuing your Presidency of the Treasury and finishing the business of this Session of Parliament, and not be surpris'd at my employing that short space of time in taking such steps as I may judge necessary in strengthening my Service, the first of which will be my giving the Great Seal to the Attorney General.
