Your Majesty receives a report from Mr Justice Willes on the case of the Person recommended by Lord Hertford, Your Majesty is troubled with it in this manner, because, as the report seems favorable, if Your Majesty should order a respite to be sent, there may be time to receive an answer to it.

May I take this opportunity of asking Your Majesty's permission to go to Ealing tomorrow for a few days, which I forgot to do when I had the honor of attending Your Majesty to day.
