Buckingham House
Sept 10 1821

Mr Barnard presents his compliments to Mr Gray, & has done himself the honor of calling upon him to thank him personally for all his kind favors, & if he had been fortunate enough to ^{have} met with him, to have enquired, if any payments of the arrears of the Library for the continu^{ance} of periodical publications, & by the continuation of other works, the beginning of which are already in the Library are likely to be shortly made such works & periodical publications having been continued in obedience to His Majesty's special Command,

If Mr Gray should have any communication to make upon this subject, Mr Bannan will be much obliged for a line directed to him at St James's, or Putney.
