

Ld. Heymouth

Apr. 7 1778 (Date of his fit in A. of L.)

2892

Lord Chatham's fit seems to be of the most serious kind, he appeared expiring for some time, he was then carried into the Prince's Chamber & had no sign of Life or sense for above half an hour, Dr. Addington was sent for, when he came, he said it was Apoplectic, but if no Vesicle in the head was burst, he might recover, between six & seven came a little to his sense, but his life is very doubtful, most people seem to think that he will never come out again.

^{1/2}
1/5 past seven P.M.

