

Arrangements for visit

2946

x

The Gold Stick, the Queen's Chamberlain, and the Equerry in Waiting to go in the Post Coach, with Post Horses on Sunday May 1st to Godalming, by three and proceed in the morning to Petersfield, where four of the Black horses of the Equerries Selt, and a fifth horse to carry the helper are to attend the Post Coach to the Stage where the King takes his last Relay, and go before him to Portsmouth.

The two Aide de Camps to be provided with an hired Post Chaise from London to Portsmouth, if they chuse it they may bye at Godalming, they are to be ready to receive the King a little before Two at Portsmouth, on Saturday May 2^d.

The King will go on Saturday morning in his Post Chaise, drawn by four of Tiggates horses, one of the Saddle Grooms to attend, and a usual the Helper, the Two Footmen to ride Post horses.

At the 10 Mile Stone on the road to Leatherhead the four remaining horses of Tiggates Selt, an horse of the Equerries Selt for the helper, and one of the Hobby Grooms with two Post horses for the Footmen, to be ready by one Quarter after Seven.

At Hindhead four of Hainsworth's horses, another Hobby Groom, two Footmen to relieve the two others with Post horses, and the helper on a fifth black Coach horse, to be ready at one Quarter after Nine.

Four more of Hainsworth's Selt with an horse of the Equerries Selt to carry the helper, and the third Hobby Groom, to be one Mile beyond Petersfield at Cleeve.

The Queen's two Postmen, and the two of the King (that are to relieve the two that ride from London to Windhead) to go on the Postmen's backs on Thursday April 30th. Agree the Helper to attend as usual.

The King's two Postmen to be dropped at Godalming that they may be ready to attend at Windhead; The Queen's two Postmen, Ayer, and the five hacks to go on to Petersfield, these Servants and hacks to be ready at the last Stage to attend to Portsmouth.

Four of the Queen's Bay Horses that attend the Equeries with the fifth for the helper to draw quietly to Portsmouth the Post Chaise, and in Summer by Lady Charlotte Finch, for any use the Queen may have for it.

P
Parker ought to set out on Wednesday, and order the horses for Ramus's Post Chaise for Wednesday night, or Thursday morning at break of Day, and the Relays; also for Friday morning at break of Day for young Ramus, and the Queen's Page a Post Chaise and the Relays, also Horses for the Equeries Post Coach on Friday at ten o'clock, & the Post Chaise for the Aid de Camps, and on Saturday for the Queen's female Servants a Post Chaise at Six, and also the Relays on the Road.